

Pharma Freight leader undergoes strategic rebranding

Life Logistics Freight becomes Life Couriers

Munich, Germany (01 October 2025) – Berlin-based logistics provider Life Logistics Freight announces it will be rebranded to Life Couriers. The rebranding takes place as part of continued evolution and integration in the Life Couriers group. Life Logistics Freight GmbH will remain the legal entity, led by Stephan Puvogel.

Founded in 2010, Life Logistics Freight GmbH (LLF) is an established provider across Europe, Middle- and Far East as well as Northern Africa, known for its excellence in GDP-compliant freight logistics for the transport of pharmaceuticals, active ingredients, raw materials, medical devices, chemicals and food.

Since joining the Life Couriers global group in 2021, the LLF team has made great strides to progressively align itself operationally, culturally, and strategically with Life Couriers. The rebranding now is a logical step in the evolution of this industry-leading freight company.

“We actively embrace change as a driver of development,” says Stephan Puvogel, Managing Director of Life Logistics Freight GmbH. “Since the ownership changed to Life Couriers in 2021, we have acted faster and with more flexibility, resulting in a doubling of turnover. This renaming is more than symbolic. It’s a clear sign that we are fully part of the Life Couriers family, united by a shared commitment to precision, reliability, and care.”

Stefan Glebke, CEO of Life Couriers, adds: “The longstanding success of Life Logistics Freight is rooted in its customer-centric philosophy, an approach that fits seamlessly with our values. Their focus on delivering sustainable value, continuous quality improvement, and tailored solutions has shaped enduring partnerships. That mindset is part of our DNA, making their rebranding to the Life Couriers name a natural progression.”

Life Logistics Freight will change to its new name, Life Couriers, over the coming months. Its offerings and services will continue as known under the new name, and all positions will be retained. The legal entity Life Logistics Freight GmbH will also remain.
